American Flag Address Labels

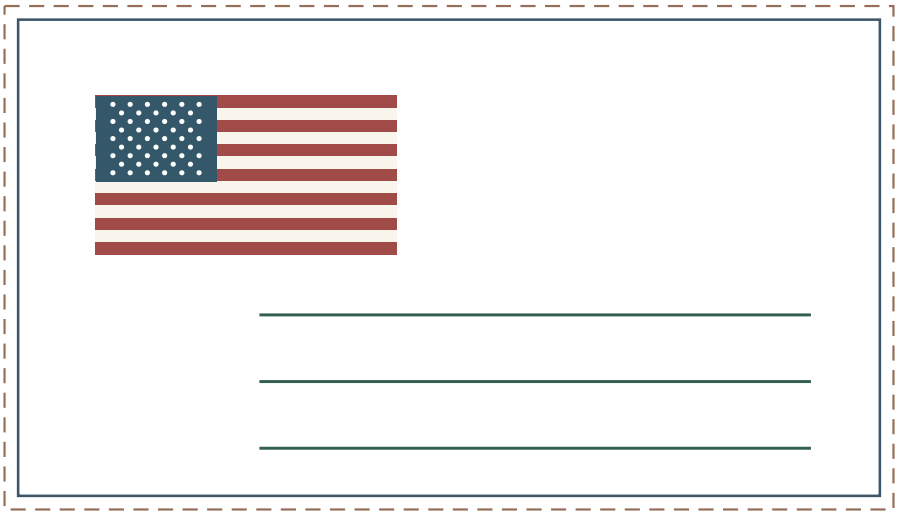
Reference I Worked example I LETTER

Original prompt

Worked example: plan and draw one label on a sheet. The choices below are classroom choices, not standards.



Upper-left canton, three address lines, full trim rectangle.

The motif and the three lines have clear space between them. All lines fit inside the label. The dashed rectangle is 1.8 mm outside every edge.

Answer

Sheet choice: one label on a plain sheet. Label choice: a rectangle wider than it is tall. Layout choice: flag motif in the upper-left corner, three address text lines stacked in the lower-right area, cut guide as a full rectangle around the label with a small gap. Drawing order: (1) label rectangle; (2) motif box in the upper-left; (3) canton, stripes, and stars as small dots inside the motif box; (4) three text lines in the lower-right; (5) cut-guide rectangle outside the label with a small gap; (6) check that the motif does not touch the text lines.

Reasoning

The label rectangle comes first because every other part is placed relative to it. The motif box comes next so the flag has a fixed home. The text lines come after the motif so the clear space is reserved for the address. The cut guide comes last so it follows the label edge.

Check

Look at the finished drawing. Confirm three things: the flag motif sits inside its box and does not touch the text lines; the three text lines are inside the label and do not touch the label edge; the cut-guide rectangle sits outside the label with a visible gap all the way around.
