

Sphere: preserve the light

Reference tones are a simplified drawing guide and may print differently. Compare order, highlight and light direction. A hand-drawn study need not match these digital gray values.

Light

Light is upper-left/front. Keep the lit part lighter and the turning-away planes darker. These studies omit cast shadows and reflected-light detail to focus on form values.

Self-check: distinct values; preserved paper highlight; consistent light. Use the separate reference as a comparison, not a numerical grade.
