Original worked example / unchanged complete key

Prompt: Trace one uppercase letter from the faint guide onto tracing paper, then trace the same letter again on the blank overlay page after the first tracing is dry.

Answer: Place the tracing paper over the faint guide and begin at the guide's indicated starting point. Follow the stroke direction the guide shows, and include a crossbar only if the guide depicts one. Let the first tracing dry. Then place the blank overlay over the dry tracing or over the original faint guide, and trace the same shape. Compare the two tracings by eye: check height and starting point against the guide, look for stroke continuity, and note whether the repeated tracing stays consistent. There is no single correct result; use the rubric to judge quality.
