Days and Months Handwriting Practice Lines: Tracing and Copying Guide

Worked example / complete source key

On guide lines with a baseline, midline, and top line, write the word Friday once by tracing and twice by copying. Check the capital F, the x-height letters r, i, d, a, and the descender y.

Answer: The traced Friday sits on the baseline, the capital F reaches the top line, r, i, a reach the midline, d rises above the midline, and y drops below the baseline. The two copies keep even spacing and remain readable. A valid alternative may use a slightly different slant or letter shape, provided the guide-line convention stays consistent.