Old Man Drawing: Wrinkles and Posture Portrait Guide

Original task 1 / independent drawing and calculation

Task 1

On a blank sheet, draw an elderly man's head only using an 8 cm head height. Mark the eye line at half the head height and the nose base one-third below the eye line. Taper the jaw and add two forehead lines and three crow's feet per outer eye. Use the continuous-line convention.

Keep the original task measurements. Use the full drawing sheet in this PDF for a response needing more room; use the stated paper size when a task specifies larger paper.

Task 2

Draw an elderly man's portrait from head to mid-chest. Use a neck tilted forward about 5 to 10 degrees as a hypothetical example, a shoulder line sloping down from the neck, and one shoulder slightly higher. Add nasolabial folds and three neck rings.

Keep the original task measurements. Use the full drawing sheet in this PDF for a response needing more room; use the stated paper size when a task specifies larger paper.

Original task 3 / independent drawing and calculation

Task 3

Draw an elderly man's head with uneven wrinkle density. Use two dominant forehead lines, one dominant nasolabial fold per side, and lighter secondary lines elsewhere. Keep the forehead lighter and darken under the jaw and side of the neck.

Original task 4 / independent drawing and calculation

Task 4

Draw an elderly man's portrait from head to mid-chest and then review it against the rubric. Mark any wrinkle that crosses a bone ridge without a break and redraw it with a small gap. Confirm the portrait stops at mid-chest.

Keep the original task measurements. Use the full drawing sheet in this PDF for a response needing more room; use the stated paper size when a task specifies larger paper.

Full drawing sheet / reusable blank workspace

Reusable full drawing sheet for Tasks 1 to 4. Print another copy when needed. Keep all original task measurements; if a task specifies larger paper, use that paper size.
