Draw a Cute Bunny: Ear, Body, and Paw Construction

Original worked example / unchanged complete key

Prompt: Draw a cute bunny with head height 3 cm, head width 3 cm, body height 5 cm, and paw width 1 cm. Check that the body overlaps the head by about 0.75 cm, that each paw width is within the accepted range, and that all paws touch the lowest body line.

Answer: The finished bunny has two tapered ears with bases meeting the head oval, a 3 cm head oval (3 cm wide), a 5 cm body oval overlapping the head by 0.75 cm, and four 1 cm paws touching the lowest body line. One third of the 3 cm head width is 1 cm, so the accepted paw range is 0.9 cm to 1.1 cm; a 1 cm paw width sits in the middle of that range. The construction order is ears, head, body, paws.
