Draw Aurora Ribbons: Layered Light Over a Horizon

Ordinary topic reference / separately checked pixels

Draw Aurora Ribbons: Layered Light Over a Horizon

Original worked example / unchanged complete key

Prompt: On a landscape sheet, draw a horizon at one third from the bottom. Draw three overlapping aurora ribbons above it: a wide base ribbon, a narrower middle ribbon, and a top ribbon that tapers at the right end. Use light strokes and a simple horizon silhouette.

Answer: The sheet shows a light horizon line across the lower third. Above it, a wide base ribbon curves gently and overlaps a narrower middle ribbon. The middle ribbon crosses the base and fades behind it. The top ribbon is narrowest and tapers at the right end. Edges are light, short interior strokes suggest glow, and a simple dark band sits on the horizon. No stars or foreground detail are present.