Cartoon Reindeer Drawing: Body Shapes, Antlers, and Hooves

Ordinary topic reference / separately checked pixels

Cartoon Reindeer Drawing: Body Shapes, Antlers, and Hooves

Original worked example / unchanged complete key

Prompt: Draw a cartoon reindeer with a body oval 8 cm wide and 5 cm tall, a head oval 4 cm wide, two antler stems with two branches each, and four hooves. Describe the order and the checks.

Answer: Draw the body oval first, then the head oval above and slightly to one side. Add a short neck rectangle. Draw four leg rectangles below the body, each about 3 cm long. Add a small hoof shape at each leg end. Draw two antler stems from the top edge of the head oval, each with two short branches. Add two eyes, a muzzle, and a nose. Check: head width is about half the body width; four hooves are visible; both antler stems touch the head oval; eyes sit inside the head oval.