Draw Artemis: Pose, Bow, Quiver, and Drapery

Ordinary topic reference / separately checked pixels

Draw Artemis: Pose, Bow, Quiver, and Drapery

Original worked example / unchanged complete key

Prompt: Using a hypothetical x-height of 4 units, place the hips, shoulders, and head top, then describe where the bow and quiver go and how many folds to add.

Answer: Hips at 4 units above baseline, shoulders at 8 units, head top at 12 units. Bow in the forward hand, length about 8 units, string near the wrist and clear of the face. Quiver on the back, about 6 units long, opening above the shoulder with a half-unit gap from the shoulder line. Add three to five folds from shoulder or waist to the hem, keeping them clear of the bow string.