Prompt: Using a plate with head 2x2 units, torso 3x4 units, and limb segments 1x2 units, draw a standing pose and verify proportions.

Answer: Draw a vertical center line. Place the head block centered, 2 units wide and 2 units tall. Leave a half-unit neck gap, then place the torso 3 units wide and 4 units tall. Mark shoulder points at the top corners of the torso and hip points at the bottom corners. Attach two arm segments at each shoulder, each 1 unit wide and 2 units tall, hanging straight down. Attach two leg segments at each hip, each 1 unit wide and 2 units tall. Check that every block matches the plate and that joints align with the guide circles.
