Black and White Owl Drawing: Tonal Contrast and Hatching

Original task 1 / independent drawing and calculation

Task 1

Draw a full owl outline. Hatch the facial disc with lines 3 mm apart (hypothetical), the wings with 1.5 mm cross-hatching, and the ear tufts with 1 mm triple-layer hatching. Check contrast by squinting.

Keep the original task measurements. Use the full drawing sheet in this PDF for a response needing more room; use the stated paper size when a task specifies larger paper.

Original task 2 / independent drawing and calculation

Task 2

Draw an owl with a light chest, mid-tone back, and dark under-body shadow. Use curved hatching lines that follow the body form. Leave white gaps for eye highlights.

Keep the original task measurements. Use the full drawing sheet in this PDF for a response needing more room; use the stated paper size when a task specifies larger paper.

Black and White Owl Drawing: Tonal Contrast and Hatching

Original task 3 / independent drawing and calculation

Task 3

Draw an owl and intentionally make the mid and dark zones too similar. Then adjust by increasing line density in the dark zone only. Describe your change.

Keep the original task measurements. Use the full drawing sheet in this PDF for a response needing more room; use the stated paper size when a task specifies larger paper.

Black and White Owl Drawing: Tonal Contrast and Hatching

Original task 4 / independent drawing and calculation

Task 4

Draw a full owl with ear tufts, wings, and feet. Use hatching for all tones. Then list three checks you performed to verify contrast and structure.

Keep the original task measurements. Use the full drawing sheet in this PDF for a response needing more room; use the stated paper size when a task specifies larger paper.

Full drawing sheet / reusable blank workspace

Reusable full drawing sheet for Tasks 1 to 4. Print another copy when needed. Keep all original task measurements; if a task specifies larger paper, use that paper size.
