Llama Face Drawing: Ears, Muzzle, and Wool Texture

Original worked example / unchanged complete key

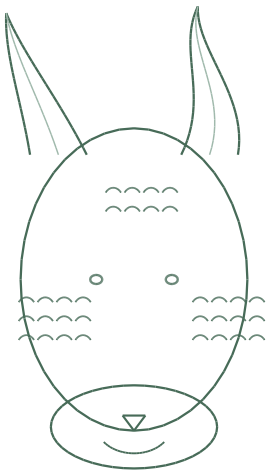

Prompt: Draw a llama face on a sheet of paper about 15 cm by 20 cm. Use a head oval about 8 cm tall and 6 cm wide. Place the midline at about 4 cm from the top of the oval. Draw two eyes on the midline, a muzzle below, and two curved ears. Add medium wool texture on the forehead and denser wool on the cheeks.

Answer: A completed llama face with a centered oval head, level eyes on the midline, a low rounded muzzle extending slightly past the oval, two long curved ears at different angles, and short curved wool strokes that are denser on the cheeks and lighter near the muzzle. The face is recognizable as a llama and the wool texture is visible without hiding the features.

The 8 by 6 cm head has a midline 4 cm from its top and eye centers 2 cm apart. The muzzle sits below the eyes and slightly below the head oval. Curved ears use 4 cm centerline lengths and 1.5 cm bases; their tip-to-head-center directions differ.
