Draw Missing Body Parts: Kindergarten Completion Worksheets

Original tasks 1, 2, 3 / complete keys

Task 1

A figure has a dashed gap labeled leg at the bottom left. The gap runs from the hip to the floor line. Draw the missing leg so it touches the hip gap.

Answer: A leg drawn from the hip gap to the floor line, touching the body at the top. A straight or slightly bent leg is acceptable.

Reason: The label says leg, and the gap runs from hip to floor. The drawing must connect at the hip and reach the floor line to complete the figure.

Check: Check that the leg touches the hip gap and reaches the floor line. Mark connection and recognizability as yes.

Task 2

A figure has a dashed gap labeled hand at the end of the right arm. The gap is a small rounded outline. Draw the missing hand and color it.

Answer: A rounded hand shape drawn inside the gap and touching the arm end. A mitten shape or simple finger lines are acceptable.

Reason: The label says hand, and the gap is at the arm end. The hand must meet the arm and be recognizable as a hand shape.

Check: Check that the hand touches the arm end and matches the label. Mark connection and recognizability as yes.

Task 3

A figure has a dashed gap labeled arm on the right side. The gap starts at the shoulder and ends at the wrist line. Draw the missing arm so it connects at the shoulder.

Answer: An arm drawn from the shoulder gap to the wrist line, touching the body at the shoulder. A straight or curved arm is acceptable.

Reason: The label says arm, and the gap runs from shoulder to wrist. The drawing must connect at the shoulder and reach the wrist line.

Check: Check that the arm touches the shoulder gap and reaches the wrist line. Mark connection and completion as yes.

Answer: A small foot shape drawn at the floor line and touching the leg end. A simple oval or rounded shape is acceptable.

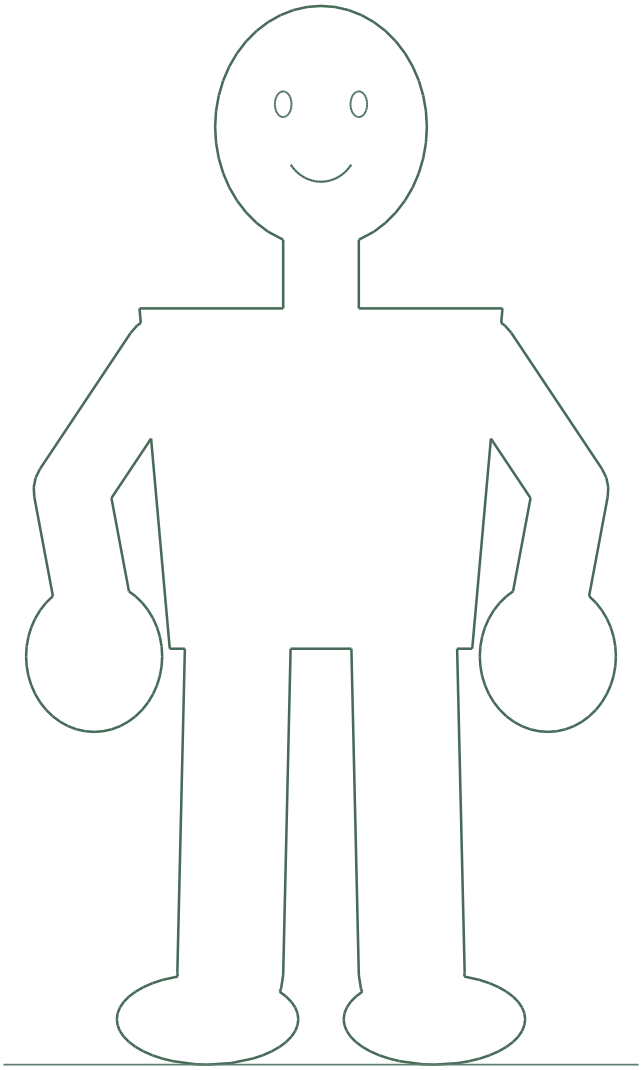

Reason: The label says foot, and the gap is at the leg end on the floor line. The foot must touch the leg and be recognizable.

Check: Check that the foot touches the leg end and sits at the floor line. Mark connection and recognizability as yes.

Task 1 / answers

Body-part completion / dashed gaps are deliberate inputs / left and right mean page view

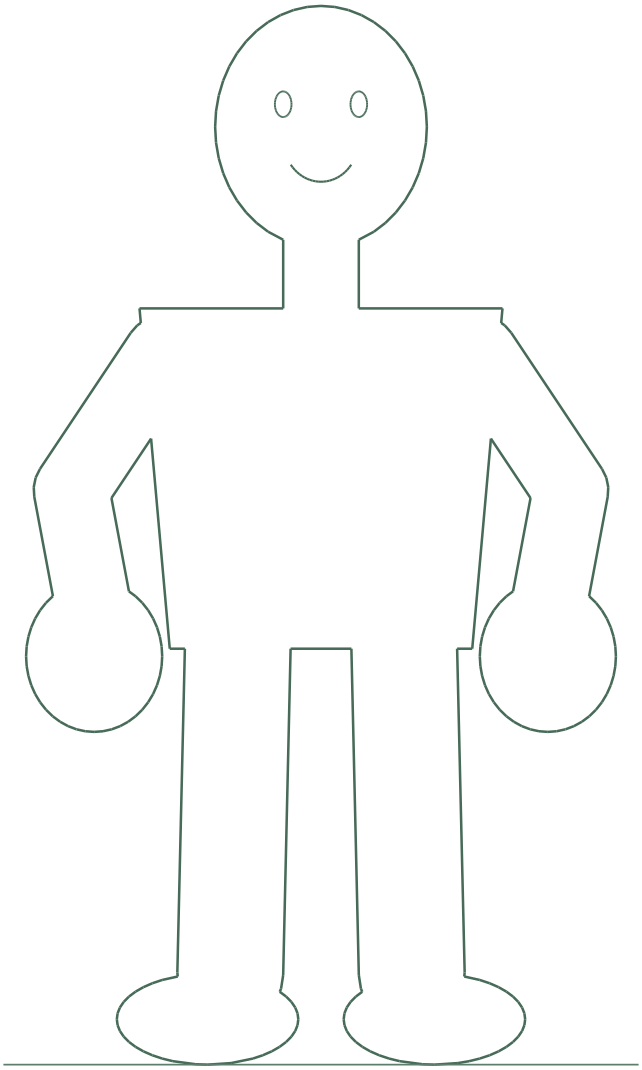

The simplified leg gap includes its rounded ground-end and reaches the floor line.

The labelled part now connects to the body. A mitten hand or rounded foot is a valid shape choice under this lesson, not a fixed anatomical outline.
